Pastoral Care

Aidanfield Christian School is a signatory to the New Zealand Code of Practice for the Pastoral Care of International Students. We are committed to quality teaching and learning and high-quality pastoral care and support.

The New Zealand government has developed The Education (Pastoral Care of International Students) Code of Practice 2016 (including Amendments 2019). The Code contains special provisions giving extra protection to pupils under the age of 18.

The school staffs are here to support all international visitors following their arrival at the School. They are available at all times during the enrolment period and have responsibility for any pastoral care issues that arise at the school and can advise on and provide access to support services if required.

With young students traveling and living with parents, the first responsibility for pastoral care on day to day matters will remain the parent. Our staffs are happy to advise around issues to do with New Zealand culture and services.
